THE CONVENTION.

STONE'S FORCES ARE AHEAD IN ORGANIZATION.

The Fight is a Hard One--Complete Harmony Prevails--The Convention Hall too Small.

Special to the Democrat.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 19.—The convention was called to order at 2 o'clock by Chairman Charles Maffit, of the state committee. Rev. Watkins, of Jefferson City, opened the convention with an eloquent prayer.

The convention immediately got down to work and in a short time the temporary officers were announced as follows.

Chairman, Senator Bushrod M. Dilley, of Caldwell county; secretary, Dave W. Wallace, of Independence; sergeant-at-arms, W. L. Mack, of Barton county, with an assistant from each congressional district; doorkeeper, J. M. Crawford.

The roll was called for the appointments of the various committees of the Seventh district and the following were made:

Vice president, Geo. W. Crawford; assistant secretary, T. E. Spencer; credentials, T. C. Hatler, Polk; permanent organization, W. R. Wilhite, Boone; resolutions, O. A. Stine, Pettis.

It was also agreed to recommend two committeemen from each congressional district. T. J. Delaney and J. D. Dolson were agreed upon by the Seventh.

Judge J. H. Lay, of Benton, has been chosen as presidential elector.

The fight for governor is oppressively close and is getting hotter all the time.

Stone has the advantages in the superior organization of his forces and has marshaled them brilliantly. The Dalton and the Gibson men are confident of success for their respective candidates.

The contest for railroad commissioner and attorney general has stirred up a close contest.

The convention is the perfection of harmony and good work is being done. The hall, however, is entirely too small and lacks much of being large enough to accommodate the immense crowd.

Convention adjourned to meet at three o'clock.

AT THE PISTOL'S POINT.

A Brakeman by the Name of Pratt Claims to Have Been Held Up.

According to Dora B. Pratt, who claims to have been victimized, another highway robbery was perpetrated in Sedalia last night and the amount secured was $40.

To a DEMOCRAT reporter Pratt, who stated that he was a brakeman on the Springfield division of the Hannibal and St. Joseph railway, gave the following account of the robbery:

"With my cousin, Will Pratt, I came to Sedalia Monday morning with the hope of getting another place, being dissatisfied with my present road.

After knocking about town all day we went to the Pacific shops and were returning to East Sedalia, when, about 9 o'clock, on reaching a point some two hundred yards from the 'X' office we were suddenly confronted by two masked men, who, with pistols leveled at our heads, made us disgorge. My cousin didn't have anything, but I had a fraction less than $40, all but a few cents of which they made me surrender."

Pratt gave no information of having complained to the authorities about his alleged robbery, and this together with several other suspicious items creates doubt as to the truth of the story.

ALMOST BROKE HIM.

Dr. Woods Lets His Gas Burn for Three Weeks Without Knowing It.

Dr. H. W. Woods, told a DEMOCRAT reporter immediately upon arriving in Sedalia that he was feeling "finer than a fiddle." Unfortunately, however, he has pinned away in the last day or two until Frank Meyer fears that it will result seriously.

When the druggist took his departure for the east about three weeks ago he left his room hurriedly to catch a train. The gas was burning at the time and when he returned from his trip, it was still burning.

The gas company is said to have a bill against him that would break the Bank of England. Joe Simpson says he "kept smellin' gas, but didn't know where the darned stuff was coming from."

EX-MINISTER TAYLOR.

The Frederick Douglas of the West Passes Through Sedalia.

Chas. H. Taylor, the famous negro democrat, passed through this morning en route from his home, Kansas City, Kas., to the state nominating convention. He is becoming very corpulent. His dusky jaws hang down with surplus adipose tissue, and his bay window looks like it contained a feather bed.

Under the Cleveland administration Taylor, it will be remembered, was minister from the United States to Liberia. He is now editing the American Citizen, a paper whose policy is thus outlined:

"It is a national organ, published in the interest of tariff reform and the political freedom of the negro. It is unalterably opposed to force and class legislation, and fights the intermixing of the races."

To a DEMOCRAT reporter this morning, Taylor said that the people intended giving Harrison but five states at the coming general election.

By the way, Taylor's card is a curious institution and might lead some to suspect him of presumption. Here it is:

CHAS. H. TAYLOR,
(Ex-U. S. Minister to Liberia.)
Editor of "The American Citizen" Lawyer, Author and Orator.
Kansas City, Kansas.

FROM BARRETT'S TO THIRD.

The Electric Railway Will Have a Line by the Kite Track by Saturday Night.

Judge Metsker is rushing the building of his electric railway extension. A force of men has been engaged this week in continuing the line, in front of J. R. Barrett's residence, along Barrett avenue to Third street, passing directly by the grand stand of the kite track. The work is not allowed to lag and the extension will be in first-class running order by Saturday night.

When the track is completed along Third street, a belt line will then encircle a large portion of the city. Ohio and Third street will be the intersection of the loop, the cars passing down Ohio to Maine, then to Lamine and thence west on Third. Judge Metsker stated today that he would have every facility for taking care of the big crowd on the 27th.

BUTCHERS AND PAINTERS.

They Will Cross Bats at the Park This Afternoon.

The butchers and painters of the city have organized two nines and will play a match game at the park this afternoon. They promise to knock the ball clean off the earth. Things promise to take on a red tinge as the painters have their brushes and the butchers their knives. The proceeds will be devoted to purchasing new uniforms.

This is the butchers' nine: Joe Disqua, Joe Stein, Hank Rodman, Barney Euchs, J. S. Paradise, Jake Tufel, John Lyons, Charley Hanney, Jake Kenoeche, Henry Klinks. The painters are Charles Strader, Walter Mounts, R. T. Dillard, A. L. Smith, Bill Davis, Gus Ryan, Billy Greenstreet, J. M. Crawford and Harvey White.

In the Depths.

John B. Dwyer, better known as "Con" Dwyer, at one time a crack telegraph operator, was in the city today and was one of the perfect examples in the country of what an unlimited use of whiskey can do for a man. Dwyer once promised unusual ability and ranked in the first line with those who throw lightning from New York to Frisco.

Instead of his former respected self, Dwyer is a homeless wanderer, wrecked in mind and body and goes from one place to another getting a nickle or a dime from the boys for the sake of old times.

At Siche's.

H. Grebe, New Melle, Mo.; N. Y. Henry, Chicago; Jos. Peavey, Kansas City, Kas.; Percy F. Smith, St. Louis; Mrs. Heckler and daughter, Clinton, Mo.; John A. Bushnell, Windsor; A. L. Kenyon, Warrensburg.

CITY COUNCIL.

TWO IMPORTANT ORDINANCES PASSED AT THE SESSION.

Tax Levy for 1892 Declared--Proposition to Issue More Revenue Bonds.

The city council met in regular session last night with Mayor Stevens in the chair and seven members present.

Minutes of the two previous meetings were read and approved.

A petition signed by twenty citizens, praying for an arc light at Eleventh and Lafayette, was refused. Rejected by a vote of 4 to 3.

The six lights voted for last March were ordered to be put up without delay.

A communication from Pat McEnroe inviting the councilmen to visit Engineer street and inspect the paving now in progress, was read and the invitation was accepted.

A communication was also received from Mayor J. W. Ragsdale, of Moberly, requesting that delegates be appointed to meet in his city Thursday, August 11th, on the occasion of the state convention of representatives from third class cities. The object of the convention is to take action toward revising the state laws regulating cities of this class.

The city clerk was requested to confer with Mayor Ragsdale and line of Washington avenue to the Katy's proposed new freight house. Council then entered into executive session to consider a proposition to issue $10,000 in revenue bonds.

HUNTING TROUBLE.

One of the Biggest Buzz Saws in the Indian Territory Will be "Monkeyed With."

Capt. John J. Kinney left last evening for the territory, where he will organize a pursuing party and go after the Daltons. It is difficult to think of a more dangerous expedition in the whole country to-day than hunting the Daltons. They are mounted on the best horses, their guns are of the most improved patterns, and, from the shells found at the scene of the Adair robbery, look as if they could almost sink an iron-clad. These fellows know no such word as fear and will never surrender. Granting that there are ten robbers, it is dollars to cents that ten or more of the pursuing party will be killed before the desperadoes are captured.

The expedition strongly suggests the close of a battle story of the war: "Gentlemen, may the Lord be with you, for I can't."

They Are the Right Stuff.

W. F. Carter, banker; Dr. G. W. Menes and C. E. Miller, a prominent lawyer at Clinton, passed through this morning to Jefferson City. Mr. Miller stated to a DEMOCRAT reporter that the Henry county democracy have the "banners on the outer walls." Last week amidst great enthusiasm a demo-notify him that Sedalia would be represented. Mayor Stevens was empowered to appoint the delegates.

Contractor Ed. Hurley gave the council notice that he declined to accept contract for constructing pavement in the alley of block 45 on account of a failure to advertise the ordinance governing same property. On motion he was released.

A communication was received from Sangree & Lamm, attorneys for Daniel Bartlett, asking what the council intended doing about that $1,000 suit. On the advice of City Attorney Cashman the claim was rejected, plaintiff having been paid for the damage of which he now complains.

A petition from D. I. Holcomb praying that the council permit him to build a bridge over the alley between his place of business on Second street and his store on Main street, was referred to the street and alley committee.

The contract for constructing sidewalks on Lamine and Prospect avenues was awarded to Edward Hurley, his bid being 12½ cents per square foot.

The monthly reports of the city officers for June were then read and ordered filed.

An ordinance was passed to fix the tax levy for the present year as follows: Current expenses 60 cents on the $100. Interest on bonded indebtedness, 40 cents on the $100. Sinking fund purposes, 50 cents on the $100.

Ordinance also passed to change grade of East Main street from east cratic club of 100 members was organized. The boys will be uniformed. The genial attorney was given the honorable position of president of the club.

FELL TO HIS DEATH.

The Hot Weather of Yesterday Causes One Man to Lose His Life.

While T. B. Howe was at work on a new building on Ingram avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, yesterday evening, he grew faint from the intense heat and fell from the scaffolding to the ground below, a distance of about two feet.

He struck on his head and shoulders and was thrown into convulsions. He was immediately taken to his home, No. 905 East Sixth street, and a doctor called to attend him. He never rallied, and at 10:10 o'clock last night death put an end to his sufferings. He is said to have died from concussion of the brain. No bones were broken.

Mr. Howe was formerly a resident of Pilot Grove and is a member of Amity lodge No. 69, A. O. U. W. He had reached the age of 48 years, and leaves a wife and one child. He will be buried at Sedalia, the funeral services taking place from the Christian church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock under the auspices of the A. O. U. W.

BREAKING IRON CHAINS.

How William Guy Carlton Exposed the Deception Before an Audience.

Henry Guy Carlton, the playwright who wrote the "Lion's Mouth" for Frederick Ward, in New York several years ago, exposed the "wonderful" strength of one of the reputed strong men who was causing his audiences to gasp in astonishment at his wonderful feat of breaking iron chains.

After witnessing one of the performances, Carlton arose and declared to the audience that he, too, could smash a steel chain. Every one in the house challenged him to do it, and he jumped from a box on to the stage, followed by a young man who unwrapped from brown paper a steel chain, pressed it and wrung it, and lo and behold, it fell apart like a pipe stem.

The crowd applauded and roared with laughter at the sight of a man of Carlton's diminutive and slender dimensions breaking anything.

He explained that the feat was as easy as eating caramels. The chain, he said, was soaked in a certain kind of acid that metamorphosed the invulnerable steel into a substance as soft as punk and brittle as glass.

TO DITCH THE TRAIN.

The Railway Officials Expect Such an Attempt Will be Made Tonight.

A DEMOCRAT reporter was informed from an authentic source by a gentleman just from Parsons that a general attack is expected on the train which passes south through the territory to-night.

It is thought and feared that the Daltons have planned to ditch the train. Every precaution has been taken to meet such an extremity.

Jim Gossage is said to have been practicing with his Winchester all day. He will be one of the guards to night.

A Change of Politics.

It is rumored that the Sentinel, which has been a republican journal, is to change its politics and become a prohibition paper, as its editor, Rev. Kelly, has joined the prohibition club. There is more than one republican paper that will wish this fall that they had joined the prohibitionists, the angels or almost anything but the republican party.

Sweetness of the Past.

Edward Bellamy's wife is apparently as fond as her husband of looking backward. The little melodeon on which she learned to play when a girl, is religiously kept in the family sitting room and every Sunday evening Mrs. Bellamy sings to its simple accompaniment.

Medical Society.

The Pettis County Medical Society met at the court house last night. Dr. Scott read a very interesting and valuable paper on "Cerebral Hemorrhage and Resulting Hemiplegia."

Returned From New York.

Miss Lulu Monroe arrived this afternoon from her trip to the east, and is looking splendid. She is delighted with the historic scenery of the east.

For Her Health.

Mrs. E. E. Brown left this afternoon for Colorado, where she will try the climate for her health.

The EVENING DEMOCRAT.

"I would earnestly advise them for their good to order this paper to be punctually served up and to be looked upon as a part of the tea equipage."—ADDISON.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Patrons of the EVENING DEMOCRAT will confer a favor upon the management by promptly reporting any irregularity in delivery or bad condition of paper from improper handling.

Do city ordinances ordain? If so, what's the matter with East Third street pavements?

THERE are a few days' work necessary to complete the track. Why are not the contractors at it?

THE Third street contractors had better throw up their job right now if they don't finish before the fair.

How would it do for the city and fair directors to employ people and put them at work on the Third street track and charge it up to the contractors?

THE democracy to-day will meet to name the state officers of Missouri to serve the ensuing four years. The choice will be ratified by the people in November.

MERCHANTS who want to reach Sedalia people will find the EVENING DEMOCRAT the best medium for their advertising, for working people, the very best class of patrons, read the DEMOCRAT.

THE fight of the Gazette on the DEMOCRAT has aided this paper in reaching the top of the list in circulation. It has now opened on the Basoo and the latter may expect to begin to prosper.

THE Gazette's suggestion to have the paved streets sprinkled is not a bad one, and as it is the first original suggestion of moment made by it for a year past, it would be well to act upon it.

At the end of last week the Gazette's city subscription list was fifty four in excess of the DEMOCRAT's. At the end of the present week it will be about "hoss and hoss." After that it's good-bye Gazette. It will be second in the column of march.

PROFESSIONAL contractors are very much like other organized bodies which profit by working the public. And one of the plays of the "perfesh" is to catch their employees in a "tight box" and then extort such terms as will suit their own ideas of profit and loss to "open the box." This is not the year for the profitable plying of this pet of the trade in this section.

THE Gazette says some queer things, and at times blunders onto some true things. For instance, this morning it paid Mr. Edward Hurley and Mr. Rudolph Dean a very neat compliment in regard to the paving of Second street, a compliment merited by the gentlemen, but one evidently which wrung the heart of the morning sheet to pay. Let the good work go forward.

THE SIDE-WALK PROBLEM.

Some six months since the council ordained side-walks, or pavements rather, for East Third street. There has been a rising murmur of complaint that the work has hardly been touched, and that complaint is rapidly gathering into a howl that will waken the echoes and make the city dads open their eyes if steps are not taken to enforce the ordinance provided.

The DEMOCRAT usually counsels patience without abatement of perseverance. This policy has secured much material progress for our proud little city. But there is a time when patience is no longer a virtue, and the people of East Sedalia who are compelled to traverse Third street feel that that time has arrived, and they are therefore preparing to raise the wind.

East Sedalia has a population of some four or five thousand people. Nearly half of them depend upon Third street as a thoroughfare to reach down-town points. They were patient in securing an ordinance for better accommodations, but now that months have elapsed without action having been taken to provide the enforcement of the ordinance they are tired.

Third street from end to end is the best street in Sedalia. The owners of property are standing in their own light not to improve it. Of course, those who own vacant property do not want to spend a cent of the unearned increment, that value represented by the work of others, but prefer to get what there is out of increased population and the added improvements of other people and then sell out to some one else, who they will be glad to see fix up the property. But this is not the true spirit of speculation—healthy speculation.

The property will increase much more rapidly if improved, will be much more desirable, and will find a more ready and better market. Third street, paved and with good side walks and an electric line of railway, will be good property east and west. Besides this, the people who are compelled to travel the street have some rights to be considered. The law already provides for some demanded improvements.

Enforce the law.

Now let's eat up Third street.—Gazette.

The esteemed morning contemporary has exercised its digestive organs on all sorts of political and sensational carrion, and now wants to try its metal on Third street. After what it has lived through, if property owners do not want to see their street disappear by the efforts of the Gazette to eat it up they had best place a guard over it.

THE fair directors will make a mistake if they give up another cent to the track contractors before the work is completed. The time is already past when the work was promised, and their "little finishing" will prove a serious matter if left to the last.

THE DEMOCRAT sounded the alarm on Third street some time since, and the work has hardly progressed in any way for a week past. What's the matter with the contractors?

A New Girl.

Mint Johns takes no more interest in base ball. He has risen above it. He is now engaged in being proud, and he is proving fully competent to fill the job. Yesterday Mrs. Johns presented him with a bouncing girl, weight eight and one half pounds. The congratulations of the DEMOCRAT are with him in his joy.

The Short Haired Ball Players.

The female base ball players, who are touring the country in a special car, want to arrange for a date at Sedalia, on Wednesday, July 27th. The girls are said to be sluggers and in the game at St. Joseph last Sunday, knocked the masculine nine silly.

WHAT'S IN A NAME.

How the Folks at Moberly Were Deceived—Extensive Preparations to Receive Sam Jones.

Capt. John Owings, proprietor of the Florence house at Moberly, received a card Saturday which was as follows:

MEXICO, MO., July 16.

Hotel Florence:—I will arrive in your city this evening. Please reserve apartments for me.

SAM P. JONES.

Thinking that he was to be honored by the great evangelist, Capt. Owings made haste to announce that the only Rev. Samuel would arrive in a few hours. The evening papers heralded the news with glowing double deckers, the citizens put on their Sunday clothes, a reception committee was appointed and when the train arrived full 200 were at the depot in carriages to meet and greet the greatest marvel of the age. But lo and behold when the passengers alighted the preacher was not recognized, but thinking that he had changed in appearance, perhaps, a member of the committee waited on Peter McGivney, who in fact resembles the evangelist somewhat, and who had written the card himself, asking what his name was.

"Jones is my name, Sam P. Jones," replied the nifty hardware drummer, as he readily took in the situation.

Well, sir, it is said they almost carried him to a carriage and wheeling about, drove to the Florence hotel.

Not until this holstery had been reached did the people become advised of the deception, for, on getting out of the carriage McGivney was greeted by Capt. Owings who stood in waiting, "Hello Pete."

Then like a thunderbolt from a clear sky it dawned upon those gallant Magic City folks that they had deceived themselves! A panic followed in the rush to get off the public streets where the newsboy and boot-black poured forth derision.

Mr. McGivney arrived in Sedalia to-day from the Magic City and said the people there are the most hospitable he had ever met.

The Young Voters.

Never before in the history of this country were its young men more interested in the political issues presented for their consideration, says the Detroit Free Press, and never were the indications stronger that they are determined upon independent and manly action in reaching a conclusion. The bias of early training and associations will not determine the course which the younger voters will pursue to the extent it has in the past. The supreme effort which the republican party is making to capture the youth of the land is placed under suspicion by the means adopted. They say that the teaching upon political economy in our great institutions of learning is heterodox and unfit for application to the affairs of the country. They organize to undo these teachings and convert those who have received them to that theory of the tariff which amasses wealth for the few and places a heavy burden upon the many. Political professionals are denouncing a part of our accepted educational system because it is a menace to the party that buys elections and speculates in legislation; a party whose managers are manipulating the affairs of the country in the interest of themselves and with no thought of the people from whom vast individual fortunes are wrested.

The shame that the republican party has brought upon itself is too notorious to require extended consideration. Its sole effort is to secure the administration once more and fortify itself behind the force bill, which will give it such control at the polls as will insure an extended lease of power. The pretended champion of law and order, of intelligence and morality, it overrides the laws, defies popular sentiment, ignores the wishes of the majority and, through the operation of federal machinery, nominates a man who is giving repeated evidence of his unfitness for the place he holds. Acting on the theory that wealth is power, the republican handlers are shamelessly destroying the safeguards on which depend the safety, happiness and prosperity of the government.

It is clean and honest politics that the democracy is fighting. It is this which Cleveland represents with greater distinctness than any other man before the country. The principals for which he stands are in accordance with a high standard of patriotism and unselfish statesmanship. These facts are attracting young men to the democratic party and will hold their allegiance. Those who have recently assumed the responsibilities of citizenship do not want to unite with a party that adds to its strength by the purchase of "floaters in blocks of five." They do not want to see their candidates named by office holders. They do not want to see elections carried by the use of enormous corruption funds "fried out" of fat beneficiaries. They want honest politics. They can vote for Cleveland and maintain their self-respect.

Paste This in Your Hat.

If for no other reason, an account of their lawlessness, corporations unessential to the convenience of society should be abolished, says the St. Joe Gazette. The mere fact that the unlawful acts of trusts and combines enable their managers to pile up fabulous fortunes at the expense of society is no sufficient apology for their existence. On the contrary, the successful prosecution of a design on the part of a few men to absorb all the wealth of the continent is a sufficient reason for the abandonment of a system which supplants individualism and enforces avarice.

The people are awakening to the fact that only evil effects have followed the inauguration of what has been called an era of progress. The control of the commerce, manufacturing, mines, oil wells and packing and live stock industries of the country by corporations has dwarfed the small cities, destroyed the prosperity of individuals and followed to its inevitable conclusion, will result in placing all lines of business in the hands of gigantic aggregations of capital. Under this system the great trade centers have been built up at the expense of the small cities, competition has been crushed, the small tradesmen driven out of business, with the alternative of suffering bankruptcy or accepting places on the pay roll of a corporation. So powerful have these aggregations of capital grown that they are stronger than constituted authority and law. With little effort of concealment they enter into conspiracies injurious to trade, dictate the prices of the necessities of life, and openly defy the laws and courts of this country.

The pathway of this monstrous system is strewn with the wrecks of private fortunes as one by one their competitors have been driven from the field. There is but one remedy for the existing economic disorder. The wings of the corporations must be clipped.

Jerry Simpson Charges It Against Public Officials.

CATTLE STILL ON THE STRIP.

He Says That Persons in the Interior Department Have Been Bribed By Cattlemen to Delay Opening of the Cherokee Strip.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Yesterday Jerry Simpson introduced a resolution in the house directing a day to be fixed to discuss and vote on the Peel bill, opening the Cherokee strip.

In the course of his remarks and basing them on a letter and some other proofs in his possession, written and furnished by Henry S. Landis, clerk of the district court of Medicine Lodge, Simpson boldly asserted that the officials of the interior department of the United States had been guilty of bribe taking, corruption and extortion. That the cattlemen interested in the Cherokee strip have paid money and notes to the extent of 50 cents a head for every hoof on the strip in bribes to interior department people to withdraw the troops and allow the driven out cattle to reoccupy the range where they are to-day.

"I do not," said Simpson when interrogated, "care to name any of the cattlemen who put up this money, as they were the victims rather than anything else of the extortioners and bribetakers of the interior department. What I want is an investigation and we'll make out a case. The notes given as bribes are right now in a Kiowa bank."

In the course of his remarks Mr. Simpson said:

"Mr. Speaker, this is a bill of very great importance. There are people gathered along the southern border of Kansas from all parts of the United States. Some of them have been waiting more than a year for the opening of this territory. The commissioners appointed have agreed with the Indians, have reported to the president and the president has furnished the house with this treaty. This bill involves the opening of nearly 5,000,000 acres of the very best land in the United States and I doubt if it is equalled in the whole world. The people of this country are demanding this land for their homes. They await the action of this house."

"The bill involves the appropriation of some $8,000,000, but it is not an appropriation that will be any loss to the people of the United States. The bill fixes the price of the land, part of it at $2.50 per acre and part of it at $1.50 per acre. This will result in a gain to the government of $2,500,000 or $3,000,000 above what the government will pay for it, and it will be a profitable investment for the people of the United States, so that it is merely loaning the money and not appropriating it."

"I understand, of course, with the large appropriations the democratic party has already made that they may hesitate about appropriating this money, but yet it occurs to me that after you have appropriated such immense sums for building ships and for improving your rivers and harbors that in order to act consistently you ought to loan this money for the purpose of opening up such an immense tract of land to the homeseekers of the country. "Besides this the cattle interest, you understand, have been the ones who have delayed the opening up of this country. They are to-day in collusion with the interior department and are holding that country back from settlement. I ask the clerk to read a letter that I have handed to him that will throw light upon this subject, showing to you that men high in authority in the republican party are to-day in collusion with those cattlemen and are holding back this land from settlement. I say the democratic party cannot afford to be a party to this scheme that is keeping this strip from being opened. I now ask the clerk to read the letter, which is from a reliable party—the clerk of the district court of the county in which I live—who knows what he is talking about."

The clerk read as follows:

Last fall when the department was crowding the cattlemen, they made up $15,000 or $16,000 for the purpose of getting immunity from disturbance and stopping all interference. They became too heavy again, the department went in to drive out the cattlemen and they sent the troops to clear the strip. The troops started in good faith to do their duty. The cattle men were alarmed and had been by the powers that be for the past ten years and wanted nothing but a little time to get their cattle fat so they might get them out.

About this time Guthrie arrived at Kiowa and proposed to give the cattlemen protection for 75 cents a head and to assure them that they would not be molested before December 1. They doubted his authority and had been bled so freely in the past and recently had paid some one nearer home, whose name I have not been able to get, $1.20 for a protection that did not protect them that they at first refused to deal with him. He then produced letters from officers high in position, and I think among others from Gen. Noble, convinced them that he had the requisite power to protect and then they began to dicker with him and finally settled the matter on their basis:

They paid him 25 cents per head cash down and gave their note for 25 cents per head, payable on December 1, the notes being at a Kiowa bank. This cash, 25 cents per head, was paid direct to Guthrie and the notes were made payable to him.

No cattle were counted and I sent you the word of the men figures and showing the nature of the skin game. All this was gone through with, and the notes are now at the bank at Kiowa.

While the troops under Capt. Paddock were trying to get the cattle out this man Guthrie interfered so that Capt. Paddock telegraphed the department about his (Guthrie) claims of authority and his interference, and received a telegram in reply telling him (Capt. Paddock) that Guthrie had full authority and that he must recognize Guthrie's wishes.

All the cattle on the strip were transferred to this man Guthrie and within an hour were transferred to be used with the department and the other for the protection of the owners in case Guthrie should be disposed to act unfairly. You will see in the beginning of this letter that he (Guthrie) offered safety until December 1. In case he was not able to hold the matter off the notes were not to be collected, but the cash was to go anyway. These transfers were, with a few exceptions, made directly to Guthrie. In the few cases in which the transfers were made indirectly there was a third party between the cattlemen and Guthrie, but the transfer back to the cattlemen was in every case direct from Guthrie to the owner of the cattle. There is reason to believe that it was brought about in this manner:

Noble went to the president and asked to be given the control for the purpose of aiding the campaign fund, and the money is supposed to have largely gone in that direction.

HENRY S. LANDIS.
Mr. Simpson: "Now, Mr. Speaker, I have a list containing a great many of the names of men who have paid this money, and their notes are in the Kiowa bank in my county, and this house can if it chooses to investigate the question get access to them. In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, I say that the people of this country believe that they have the same right as the cattle men of this country, and they claim that this strip ought to be opened at once. If this bill is passed it will take ninety days before the land can be opened by the president's proclamation, and if you delay until the next session it will be late in the summer before the people can get to this land. Therefore, I hope that the committee will favorably consider this resolution and fix a day for the consideration of this bill."

THOMAS H. CARTER.

The New Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Thomas H. Carter, of Montana, United States land commissioner, will have general supervision of the republican national campaign as chairman of the national committee. This was decided at the meeting of the executive committee Saturday. Neither Chairman Campbell nor Vice Chairman De Young were present, but many noted republicans of both factions were, and Whitelaw Reid was called into the council.

Ex-Chairman Clarkson nominated Mr. Carter, and Mr. Payne, of Wisconsin, warmly seconded it. He was then escorted into the room and made a brief speech of acceptance. J. F. Burke, of Pittsburgh, president of the College league, was made secretary pro tem, the final selection of secretary being left to Chairman Carter.

On motion of Mr. Fessenden the chairman was authorized to appoint an advisory committee of five from outside of the national committee, and it was also unanimously agreed to continue ex-Chairman Campbell as a member of the executive committee.

The meeting of the republican national executive committee, set for 11 o'clock to-day, was not called to order until after 2 o'clock. There were then present Chairman Carter, James S. Clarkson, J. H. Manley, Cornelius N. Bliss, H. C. Payne, J. P. Tanner, R. C. Kerens, W. J. Sewell for Mr. Hobart, of New Jersey; Mr. Sparks for William O. Bradley, of Kentucky, and William Brookfield for Mr. Sutherland, of New York. Up to 3 p. m. nothing had been given out as to the proceedings. W. J. Sewell, of New Jersey, proxy for Mr. Hobart, presented a communication from President Harrison, with whom he spent yesterday at Cape May. Its nature is not divulged.

Vanderbilt's Narrow Escape.

MANCHESTER-BY-THE-SEA, Mass., July 19.—Rev. Mr. Green, of New York, was to preach at Emanuel church here yesterday, and was driving there with Cornelius Vanderbilt in the latter's carriage. When at the railroad crossing near Sunset rock, a train dashed up. Vanderbilt called to the coachman to stop, but the coachman could not do so with safety and lashed his horses with the whip. The animals sprang forward, over the track just in time to save the wheels from the cowcatcher.

John W. Harman Dead.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 19.—John W. Harman, ex-state grain inspector, died at his residence in this city last night, after an illness of four months. Mr. Harman was appointed state grain inspector in 1889, which position he held until last fall, when he was transferred to Kansas City, but resigned later owing to some difficulty between the Kansas City grain merchants and the inspection department.

The Aurania Won.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The Cunarder Aurania beat the Alaska of the Guion line from Queenstown two hours and fifteen minutes. The Alaska left Queenstown July 10, forty-five minutes ahead of the Aurania, and reached her pier one hour and a half behind her opponent. The race proves the Aurania the faster, notwithstanding she is the heavier steamer of the two.

Foreigners Raise Trouble.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 19.—Near Woodbridge gangs of foreign laborers have attacked the railroad men owing to their not being paid by the contractors for the labor of construction. The sheriff this morning summoned a large posse to go to the scene of the disturbance.

FOR MURDER.

Information Filed Against the Homestead Leaders.

FRICK'S RATHER SHREWD MOVE.

McLuckie Surrenders Himself—The Others Not Found—An Effort to Arrest Frick, Lovejoy and Potter For Murder and Conspiracy.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 19.—Yesterday afternoon Secretary Lovejoy, of the Carnegie Steel Co., appeared before Alderman McMasters and filed informations against seven of the Homestead strikers, whose arrest on the charge of murder has been threatened for some days. The informations, although not entirely unexpected, caused considerable surprise and excitement and was the subject of conversation on the streets all the afternoon and evening. They were against Hugh O'Donnell, the leader of the strikers; John McLuckie, Burgess of Homestead; Sylvester Critchlow, Anthony Flaherty, Samuel Burdett, James Flannagan and Hugh Ross, who are collectively charged with the murder of T. J. Connors and Silas Wayne on the morning of July 6, during the riot.

Connors was a Pinkerton man, 30 years of age and lived in New York. He was struck on the back of the head with a dynamite bomb and had his right arm crushed. Wayne was a young, single workman, who lived with his parents in Homestead. He had his head shot off with a cannon shot fired from the opposite side of the river while standing with his brother in the steel yard. There are two separate informations against the defendants and only vary in the names of the victims.

The informations were drawn up by Knox and Reed, the company's attorneys. Alderman McMasters immediately issued warrants for the arrest of the accused and Constables Weber, Morris and Price left at once for Homestead to serve them.

Gossip about the latest move on the part of the company ran wild and the people familiar with the case freely expressed their opinion. A few pronounced the move as well founded, backed up by the legal advice of the firm's counsel. However, a great number said it was a shrewd move to get the leaders in the strike out of the way at a time when the company expects to begin operations, as the remainder of the workmen would be deprived of the advice and leadership of the men in whom they have had confidence ever since the trouble began.

Still others charge Secretary Lovejoy with precipitating the information at a time when Mr. O'Donnell, the principal defendant, is absent from the city so it could be said that he had heard of the information and had tried to escape arrest. But his friends say he will not shrink to face the situation and the news of the arrest of his fellow workmen will, if anything, bring him back sooner than he would otherwise come.

To show that the workmen had no fear about the results of the case Burgess McLuckie as soon as the news reached him sent word to Alderman McMasters that he would come to the city and surrender himself. A report was started that counter informations are to be made against H. C. Frick and Secretary Lovejoy and the general impression is that this is only the beginning of the legal struggle at Homestead.

There was considerable conjecture as to whether any of these defendants would have to remain in jail or not until the grand jury sits in September. An attorney said the court could release them on bail, the amount of which would be determined by the evidence as to the character of the offense and the culpability of the defendants. In case Messrs. Frick, Lovejoy and Potter are arrested they will be compelled to go to jail or be released in the same way. Alderman McMasters said that he expected informations to be made against the managers.

The constables returned from Homestead last evening empty handed. They were unable to find any of the accused and will go up again.

A short time later Burgess McLuckie appeared at Alderman McMasters' office and announced that he was ready to answer the charge of murder preferred against him. The alderman then had a commitment issued against him and he was placed in jail. To-day his attorneys will go before the court and ask for his release on bail.

A Counter Move.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 19.—It was learned that William J. Brennan, counsel for the Amalgamated association, was in conference with President Weihe and that it was probable information against Messrs. Frick, Lovejoy and Potter would be made within the next twenty-four hours. The charge will be based on the introduction of Pinkerton men with arms.

Attorney Brennan was seen after his conference with President Weihe and said that no information would be made against Mr. Frick just then, and it was possible that no retaliatory measures would be taken by the strikers. If it was decided to take such action, the charge would probably be conspiracy. From a source close to the Carnegies it was learned that the firm has the names of 215 strikers against whom they believe they have enough evidence to convict as accessories to the murder of Connors and Wayne. It was the intention of the firm to enter informations every day until the entire 215 have been arrested. David Patterson and John S. Robb, two of the best criminal lawyers in this county, have been secured to conduct the cases for the Carnegies. McLuckie's hearing has been set for next Friday.

Wire Works Closed.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 19.—The Homestead steel workers' strike has indirectly caused the indefinite suspension of the Braddock wire works plant at Rankin station and 600 men are out of work.

The mills, nail, rod, barbed wire and wire drawing departments have all closed down owing to a lack of steel billets to make wire rods, etc. The company will take the present opportunity to make important improvements at the plant and eight new barbed wire machines will be put in, which means thirty additional men when the plant starts up. The company does not know when the mills will start.

A stockholder of the Pittsburgh Copper Wire Co.'s works along the Monongahela river at Braddock stated to the reporter that unless a change for the better was made by the mills making billets and using wire rods this week they will have to shut down their plant next, as they have no stock of material to run on longer. He said, however, that if the Beaver Falls mills stopped they could use the steel billets from the source that the former got them and therefore be able to continue operations. About 480 men are employed there. If the mill does not close down the new wire drawing mill will be started this week, which will give 300 more men employment.

Emissaries at Work.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 19.—Homestead is filled with detectives in the employ of the Carnegie company. Their mission seems to be to watch the men and bring influence to bear on the men composing the rank and file of the locked out men and mechanics. As the latter visit this place it can be said they are not succeeding to any notable degree. As to the leaders, they say they do not care how many detectives the company may employ to watch them.

The town is also filling up with non-union workmen. To deny this would be to deny the truth. Every train brings unprincipled fellows into the place. These men can come for no other purpose than to "work" the strikers for a $5 or $10 bill and free tickets to eastern cities. Homestead is certainly becoming the Mecca for tramps, who represent themselves as non-union workmen, but are willing to get out of town again if the strikers will give them a little cash and free railroad tickets.

But there is another class drifting in here. They are being sent in by the Carnegies. Two strangers accosted on Eighth avenue admitted they had signed agreements to go to work in the mill. They left town in the afternoon.

GRAND TRUNK COLLISION.

A Bad Accident on the Welland Division in Canada.

MERRITON, Ont., July 19.—One of the worst railway accidents that ever happened in this vicinity occurred about 1:45 a. m. The mail train on the Welland division of the Grand Trunk railway, from Port Dalhousie, bound south, and the accommodation train from Niagara Falls bound north, to connect with the steamer Empress of India, met in collision a short distance north of this station at a particularly bad point. A short wooden bridge crossed the water power race way and the engine of the boat train had just crossed it when the trains met and the two first coaches on the boat train were thrown from the track over the bank, plunging into the race stream which flows rapidly past. The engine was demolished and thrown over the opposite bank. Three persons were killed and a dozen severely injured.

Rose Terry Cooke Dead.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 19.—Mrs. Rose Terry Cooke, author, died at Pittsfield at 10 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Cooke was best known as a writer of short stories. She was born in West Hartford, Conn., sixty-five years ago February 17 last. She graduated at the Hartford Female seminary in 1843, and in 1873 was married to R. H. Cooke at Winsted, Conn. Her first work, "Poems by Rose Terry," was published in 1860. "Happy Dadd" was given to the world in 1879, "Somebody's Neighbors" in 1881 and "Root and Branch" and the "Sphinx's Children" in 1880. Her short stories were mainly descriptive of New England life. Several were humorous. Her best known poem is "The Two Villages."

To Negotiate With Crow Indians.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Secretary Noble has appointed Albert D. Weed, Fred H. Foster and Fellows D. Pease, all of Montana, to be commissioners to negotiate with the Crow Indians for a modification of the agreement concluded with these Indians, December 28, 1891. This commission is appointed under the provisions of the first section of the act of July 13, 1892.

EMPORIA, Kan., July 19.—Leslie Cochran, eldest son of W. H. Cochran, a prominent citizen of this place, was found drowned in the Cottonwood river. He had been an invalid for years and escaped from his attendants, and while bathing was drowned. He had been missing several days before his clothes were found, which led to the discovery of the body.

A GUERRILLA WAR THREATENED.

The Gem Mine Again in Danger—Guards at the Granite Mill Threatened—Non-Union Men Returning Under Difficulties.

WALLACE, Idaho, July 19.—The condition of affairs in the Cœur d'Alene continues to be alarming. There seems to be a conviction settling down that there is on foot a scheme of an aggressive character on the part of the miners' union, though as to what this move may be opinion is divided. The general opinion is that large numbers of miners, union men, are coming into the Cœur d'Alene from Montana by way of Thompson Falls.

At Gem Capt. Bubb, who has entire charge of the gulch, including Burke and Gem, said that from 200 to 300 men were on the hill near Gem. Scouts reported seeing many here and there and occasionally some would show themselves at points roundabout. It was feared that an attack was contemplated and the indications were that a move was likely on their part to blow up the granite mill just below the town of Gem. Last night reinforcements were ordered to Gem from Wallace and they were sent up on a special train. Guards at the granite mill were doubled and the sentry force also. Pickets were sent still further up on the hills and all points were carefully watched. Yesterday morning another detachment of troops was sent to Gem.

A full force of men will be put at work clearing the Frisco mill of debris and restoring it to working condition as fast as possible. It is probable that many of the union men now under arrest will be turned out on parole. Six who had been taken with the others, but against whom no charge could be brought, were liberated to-day. With all the prisoners taken by the authorities not over five guns of the entire number used in the attack at Frisco, Gem and Wardner have been captured. They have either been hidden somewhere or put in the hands of others.

How He Does It.

Preacher Talmage has made another slip between his sermons and his publishers. The discourse that he was supposed to have preached last Sunday week was not delivered at all. Circumstances were not favorable; but the sermon was published all over the country. When Talmage is at home these slips do not occur, for he has his sermons farmed out to the publishers by the year. He prepares them a week or two in advance, and they are put in type in some offices as early as the Thursday before the Sunday on which they are delivered. But when he is in Europe it is not necessary for him to be so particular about details. He reels off his discourses to his stenographer before he sails and proof slips are prepared giving an account of where and when each one is to be supposed to have been delivered, and he trusts to chance for the rest.

A Silver Railroad Pass.

Mr. A. H. Isler, of the Enquirer of this city, shows to his friends with a pardonable feeling of pride, a novel and valuable gift. It is an annual pass issued by Otto Mears, president of the Silverton and Rio Grande Southern railroad company.
It is one of probably without exception the most handsome passes ever issued by any railroad company. The road runs through a silver producing country and the pass is made of the precious metal found in Colorado. It is a highly polished plate surrounded by a pretty design of filigree work, the production of Mexican artists, with the name of the recipient engraved in the center. The company gave out a limited number of these passes to the presidents of the big railway corporations, and as a matter of course they are in great demand.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

A DOCTOR'S TESTIMONY.

After Trying for Twenty Years to Stop Drinking He Takes the Miner Treatment.The following letter is from a gentleman of the medical fraternity who had taken the Miners treatment for the cure of the liquor habit at the parent house in Nebraska:

WABASH, Neb., May 14, 1892.

It is humiliating for a man of sensitive mind to be compelled to acknowledge that he is a bound slave to his appetite; that he is the victim of a disease as persistent in its course as the storm wave, and as deadly in its results as the most terrible cyclone, or the venom of a rabid dog. I might relate to you a story of an unsuccessful effort, covering a period of twenty or more years, with frequent and repeated efforts to throw off this horrible incubus of habit and association, only to again fall deeper than before into the slough of dependency and hopelessness; even a dream of this will startle me into wakefulness and horror. I cannot bring myself to repeat the sad and humiliating story. Hopelessness in the success of my own efforts, and believing it to be a deeply seated disease which will-power would not eradicate, I determined to visit the Miner institute and see what medical treatment would accomplish, and now that I can speak from personal knowledge and observation, I am happy to be able to say that the result has been all and more than I could have anticipated, and I feel now that I can go forth to fight the battle of life with a feeling of self-confidence that has been a stranger to me for many years.The system of treatment adopted here commends itself to all who have participated in its benefits, as it certainly does those who have observed the beneficial results. What little sense a rum-soaked brain may have been able to retain, is not knocked out of the patient, and he sent home a physical and mental wreck, but the result of the treatment is to build up the system, both mentally and physically, and the experience of all so far as I can learn, is that they leave with increased bodily weight and energy, and with stronger and brighter intellects. Indeed, all seem to have taken a new lease of life and energetic manhood.J. M. NEELY, M. D.
